The Gap Year Association (GYA) proudly offers membership opportunities for gap year program providers that work with 17-21 year olds engaged in experiential learning, online or in person.

Learn from and grow through the highly collaborative GYA community to deepen your organization's professionalism and show gap year students and families that your organization aligns with GYA, the association leading best practices in the gap year field.

"The GYA gave me an immediately warm, supportive, and resourceful industry community that was indispensable as I was navigating my first role in the gap year space. Being able to rely on a talented pool of educators and administrators is so valuable in an industry that is constantly evolving and shifting with the times."
